

12-year-old Jenny arrived at the Baptist Children's Homes cottage where she would now live with her cottage parents and other children who needed a safe home. When she first got there, Jenny could have asked for food or clean clothes because she used to live in a place where she was always hungry and things were never clean. Instead, Jenny's first question for her cottage parents was, "Can I take a shower?" Before coming to Baptist Children's Homes, Jenny's home didn't have running water, and she could not shower. At school, her classmates made fun of her because she wasn't clean. Jenny's family did not give her the things she needed like good clothes or food to eat. For Jenny, being able to take a hot shower was the most important thing in the world. Her first day at school after coming to Baptist Children's Homes was life changing! Not only was she clean, but her cottage parents took her shopping the night before to buy the new clothes and school supplies. She learned that churches helped make her new home, clothes and food possible through their support. Jenny was learning about God's love for the very first time at Baptist Children's Homes.
